Experience Italy in a Wine glass

Vermiglio Rosso di Montalcino DOC

From vineyards just outside Montalcino, about 310 and 440 meters (1,020-1,445 feet) above sea level with southwestern exposure and galestro soil. The winery's star Rosso di Montalcino. Vermiglio is an ancient Italian word made popular by the likes of Boccaccio and Dante Alighieri, used to describe a type of vibrant or bright red. Andrea Costanti's Vermiglio Rosso di Montalcino certainly is vibrant and bright. It ages twelve months in tonneaux and twelve months in Slavonian oak barrels and is a wonderful addition to anyone's cellar.
